Association of Radiation Oncologists of India (AROI) and Indian college of Radiation Oncology (ICRO) have been at the forefront of education for radiation oncologists in India and in the recent years formulated theme based academic programs to benefit young radiation oncologists. PRODVANCE is one such academic program where young radiation oncologists can sharpen their knowledge and skills. This year the theme is hepato-pancreatico-biliary tumors which emphasises on a 360 degree overview of these tumors with a focus on high precision radiotherapy and stereotaxy. This year's program by the West Zone will be organized by Nanavati Max Superspeciality Hospital, Mumbai. Radiation Oncologists with less than 10 years experience are encouraged to register before 15th October, 2022.
